Overview of the 'Good to be Green' card system

Professional judgement will be used when determining sanctions.

Wherever possible, learning time missed as a result of sanctioning must be minimised.

All children start the day on Green. Children who excel will be awarded the gold card.

Teachers will use the yellow / orange/ red card system to indicate severity of incident to a pupil. Children will be encouraged to 'turn their behaviour around and return to Green'. If this happens, then the yellow or orange card can be changed back to green. This encourages resolution behaviour and promotes positive learnt behaviour. Children who finish a session on an orange card will miss 5 minutes from their break with their class teacher. Their card will then be turned back to green. Children who receive a red card may be moved to a partner class for the remainder of the session and will incur a 15 minute detention during lunchtime with a member of SLT. Parents of children with a red card will be contacted by their class teacher no later 4pm on the day.

Lunchtime: Purple Lunchtime Warning cards will mean 5 minutes timeout with MDSA awarding the sanction. A red card will mean removal from playground to the senior leader on duty that day. Cards being issued at lunchtime are separate from classroom sanctions and red cards will be reported to class teachers and recorded on ScholarPack by the Senior Lunchtime Play and Engagement Leader, however the class teacher will be required to inform parents by 4pm that same day.

The use of sanctions should be characterised by certain features:

- It must be clear why the sanction is being applied;
- It must be made clear what changes in behaviour are required to turn behaviour around;
- There should be clear distinction between minor and major offences;
- It should be the behaviour rather than the child that is sanctioned.

The senior team will monitor incident reports on a regular basis. Phase leaders will become involved if 2 red cards have been given in a term and senior leadership and parents involved if 3 red cards have given in a term.
