

Dear Parents and carers,

Last week during our daily phonics lessons the children learnt the new sounds e, l, h, r and j. The image and handwriting phrase helps the children remember each sound.

Working with your child to practice recognising each sound will help them make speedy progress in phonics. Reading to your child daily is also a great tool for developing a love of reading which is essential for success in phonics.

This Read Write Inc video demonstrates how your child should pronounce each sound. There are lots more excellent phonics resources available in the Ruth Miskin parents portal. If you would like advice about any other resources please do ask.

Next week at school we will be assessing the children's phonic knowledge ready to move some children into a new group for phonics lessons. This will be based on each child's progress and we are looking at which sounds children know and whether they have begun to read short words.

Best regards,

Miss Caush (phonics lead) and the Early Years team
